

CONFERENCE RECAP

Engaging. Educating. Entertaining.

What's Needed:

- 10 to 30 minutes, depending on event
- Our cast to attend your conference or gathering
- A time and place where all attendees are in one place together

It's always great to end a conference on a high note and The Theater of Public Policy's Conference Recap does just that. Our cast attends a full day, or multiple days of your gathering and summarizes the whole event with our special blend of smart, funny improv comedy theater.

How it works:

- We work with you to determine your meeting goals and understand the format of the event.
- Our cast attends the event, listening to keynote talks, breakout sessions, and mingling with your attendees to gather all the themes and ideas from across the conference.
- The cast takes the stage delivers a laugh-out-loud funny improv comedy performance inspired entirely by the conference and its themes. The result is a reflective, cumulative capstone that leaves attendees thinking more deeply about what they've learned and with a smile on their face.
